Jesuit High School 2021 Spring Session
FAQ

Will I receive credit for Spring Session courses?

Spring Session courses are not for credit.

How will I access my course?

Students access Spring Session courses through Canvas, the classroom management software system that Jesuit uses. Students will receive an email with instructions for logging into their course through Canvas. The course's Canvas page will include a Zoom link for the course's class meetings.

What materials will I need?

Course materials will be accessed online through Canvas.

What if I have a question to ask about my class?

Before the class begins you will receive an email address to contact your instructor.

If I will be attending Jesuit High School in the fall, will I still need to take a challenge exam if I complete a Spring Session course?

Yes. Spring Session courses do not replace math challenge exams for incoming students.

Will Spring Session courses affect my gpa?

No. Some Spring Session courses provide grades in order to give students feedback on their performance; however, the grades will not be included on a Jesuit transcript.

Does enrollment in Spring Session courses affect admissions into Jesuit High School?

No. Spring Session courses are not connected to Jesuit High School's admissions process.
